Randall Farmers Lead State With Benefit Program

Record Is Made In All Projects Submitted for Aid to Farmers of the State

95% SIGN FOR 1937

Careful Program of Instruction Has Aided All Farmers In Putting Over Projects

Randall county farmers have established themselves as leaders of the state of Texas in compliance with the various governmental activities created for the aid and assistance of farmers.

It was announced from headquarters last week that Randall county lead the entire state in membership in the Agricultural Association.

Randall county farmers lead throughout 1936 in all phases of governmental co-operation, unless it was in one or two counties which failed entirely in crops and depended upon drouth relief.

So far this year Randall county is leading. 95% of the farmers of the county had been signed up under the 1937 program yesterday. County Agent W. H. Upchurch believes that the percentage will run up to 98% when the signing period ends on Saturday of this week. The Stone district was signed up 100% yesterday. The Umbarger community was practically 100%.

The spirit of co-operation which is shown by the farmers of the county is due to the careful instructive program which has been adopted by Mr. Upchurch and the committeemen who have assisted him in carrying on the work during the past few years.

31% Car Owners Return Information Postcards

According to a report received yesterday from Austin, Randall county car owners were above the average in the state in sending in post cards to the Highway Department when they received the 1937 license plates.

Only 31% of those buying license plates used the cards, but this compared favorably with many counties in the state.

Roberts county lead in the Panhandle with 63.5% of the car owners sending in the cards. Potter was second with 61.5%. Swisher reported 24%, Deaf Smith 16.2%, Carson 20.3%, Armstrong 27.5%, Hale 35.4%, Hall 23.3%, Dallam 26%.

Starr county lead the state with 89.1% with Lamar second with 73%.

Judge R. W. Hall Died Tues. Morning After Short Illness

Judge R. Walker Hall died in Amarillo Tuesday morning following an illness of three months. He has been on the Court of Civil Appeals in Amarillo for 26 years, and has been Chief Justice for 15 years.

Judge Hall was one of the best known orators of West Texas and has often been called to speak in Canyon. One of his daughters is the wife of Dr. George Ingham, formerly of this city.

The death of Judge Hall will lead to the appointment by Governor Allred of a second member of this appeals court within a few weeks. Judge Stokes was recently appointed when Judge A. B. Martin resigned to accept a place on the commission of the Supreme Court.

A. B. Duncan has been in Levelland the past week where he is in charge of an abstract plant. Mrs. Duncan remained here in charge of their local business.

Jim Green of Spur was here Monday on business.

Their Coronation Portrait

History is written in this striking portrait, official photograph of their majesties, King George VI and Queen Elizabeth, taken on the eve of their coronation in London. Neither uniform nor gown were for use in the coronation ceremonies proper, however. Only the colorful robes, dictated by the usage of centuries, are used for the crowning.

1937 Agricultural Contracts Signed By Saturday Nite

Large Percent of Farmers Have Signed; More Checks are Received on '36 Program

The regular schedule for the signing of farm worksheets under the 1937 Agricultural Conservation program is being finished in the office of County Agent W. H. Upchurch with the signing of farmers in the Highland community today.

The Stone community in the east end of the county was the first community to sign 100%. This means farmers in that community are all eligible to participate this year. The balance of the county has signed about 95% to date.

It is expected that signing will be finished by Saturday of this week. Randall county has led the State in co-operation with all the Adjustment programs. The 1937 program so far is no exception.

The most of the 1936 benefit payments have been made. A few cases that were suspended in audit have not yet been received. These are coming in as fast as they can be cleared up. Twenty checks were received yesterday. This brings the total of 1936 payments to date to $305,377.00. The county committee started yesterday on the work of assigning acreage base to each farm. They hope to have this work finished before the end of the month.

Forty-nine range work sheets have been signed by the cattlemen who expect to participate in the Range Program this year. This part of the Conservation Program in Randall county is under the supervision of Clyde McElroy, range inspector.

Conservation Law In Effect

Directors Hold Meeting Thursday and Start on Plans to Take to Washington at Once

Water Conservation in the Panhandle of Texas became a reality Thursday when the organization was completed, and directors started their plans to secure federal aid. W. A. Warren, vice president, attended the meeting which was held in Amarillo.

Thirty-two Texas counties are included in the bill which was passed through the Texas legislature and was signed by the Governor. Three New Mexico counties entered into the organization some time ago. It is planned to bring into the organization those counties in Oklahoma, Kansas, and Colorado which are affected by the drouth. In all there will be 90 counties in the five states.

A meeting was held in Boise City yesterday at which time plans were made to complete the five-state pact, interesting all of the congressmen and senators in Congress in the plan to conserve water in this area.

Carl Hinton expects to leave for Washington on next Thursday and will take with him a complete set-up for this area.

Congressman Marvin Jones has approved the plan for the pact and will work with his collegues in congress to put over the appropriation necessary to build lakes and dams throughout the area.

The officers and directors of the Panhandle Water Conservation Authority are making a careful study of the bill which was passed by the legislature in order to bring the activities of the organization strictly within the terms of the law. An appropriation for $3,000 was included in the bill. The various counties have been paying the expenses so far. It may be necessary to call for another installment from the committees to meet the expenses of the organization.

Under the terms of the new law, the officers and directors who were

Many Citizens Hear Coronation King George Yesterday

Many Canyon citizens heard the coronation of King George yesterday. Scores of people were up at 3:00 o'clock yesterday morning to hear the first broadcast of the coronation proceedings. The program continued until late in the morning.

The King spoke at 1:00 o'clock yesterday afternoon over a broadcast that circled the globe.

This was the first time in history that every detail of a coronation was carried by broadcast.

Work Will Start This Week Building New Hospital

Basement Will Be Started at Once; Lumber Is Received for Starting Building

Work on the new hospital is expected to start most any day, states Dr. R. A. Neblett, who is building the hospital.

The lot is being cleared of the debris which remained from the old lumber yards. A carload of lumber is being unloaded at the site getting ready for construction.

The architect has the plans practically completed in order that excavation on the basement may begin in a few days.

Dr. Neblett has conferred with a number of hospital managers in making the plans for the new institution in order to secure the best arrangement of rooms.

Lawn of Postoffice Being Put in Shape —Paving to Start

The new postoffice lot is being put in shape for the grass which will be planted when the building is complete. The ground around the building is being plowed and top soil six inches deep placed on the lot.

Top soil is secured from the curbing along the south side of the building. The street is to be widened in order to take care of the heavy traffic after the completion of the postoffice. The City Commission has decided upon concrete paving instead of brick as was originally planned in widening the street. Work of widening will start soon in order to have this job completed by the time the postoffice is ready for occupancy.

Lundberg & Richter, contractors, have filed a bid to replace the old sidewalk on the south side of the lot, but no word has been received from Washington. The sidewalk is in a terrible shape, and practically gone in most places along the lot.

Mrs. Herman Houston of Monahans visited in the R. E. Ball home last week. Mrs. Houston is a sister of Mr. Ball.

Hosea Foster and Leonard Mills made a business trip to Dallas over the week end.

County Well Cleaned and Getting Ready to Set Electric Pump

The well on the court house lawn was cleaned out last week, and found to be in excellent condition. The well has not been used for more than 20 years.

A pit is being made for the two-horse power electric pump which will be used in the well. The irrigation system on the court house lawn will be attached to the pump and blue grass set out this fall.

The well is 400 feet deep and while in use was one of the best wells in Canyon. The Commissioners Court decided that the court house lawn could be irrigated much cheaper through this method than by continuing the use of city water for irrigation purposes.

Hill Remains With Legislature Until Appropriation Made

President J. A. Hill is staying in Austin until final action is taken upon the appropriation bill for educational institutions.

The Senate passed the educational bill last week without debate. The House has held this bill as the last to be acted upon. Work will probably start on this bill today in the House.

The legislature ended the 120-day period Tuesday and the members started yesterday to draw $5.00 per day. Several motions have been made setting the date of adjournment, but all have failed. It is predicted in Austin that the legislature will finally adjourn on May 22.

All tax bills which were passed by the House are being held in the Senate until it is ascertained the amount of the appropriations which are passed.

President Benedict of Texas University Died Suddenly Mon.

President H. Y. Benedict of the University of Texas died suddenly Monday afternoon as the result of heart attack. He was leaving the university to meet the appropriations committee of the legislature when stricken.

The funeral was held yesterday in Austin.

Dr. Benedict was slated to speak at W. T. last week, but was forced to cancel his trip here owing to pressing legislative business.

Mrs. C. R. Flesher attended to business in Amarillo Wednesday.

Colonel McCrerey Hits Long Range Rain Prediction

What a weather prophet Colonel J. W. McCrerey turned out to be!

Those Canyon people who have been relying upon Old Tack of Big Bull fame may now turn their queries to local talent who hits it on the head at long range.

When Colonel Mac predicts, he predicts with precision.

Along in November last fall when the wheat was looking so extra good, Colonel Mac was asked by friends about the rainfall.

His prediction then was to look for spring rain on May 9th.

And sure enough it rained on May 9th. Not a big rain, but at least it rained, and Colonel Mac saved his reputation as a weather prophet.

It so happens that Colonel McCrerey has lived in the Panhandle for nearly 30 years. He has observed that rain usually falls on May 9th or 10th. In fact it has seldom missed a good rain on these dates.

More power to the sure-shot weather prophet of Canyon! But please do not make these rains so far apart.

More Than Five Hundred Women Here For Course

Five hundred eighty-five women from twenty-nine northwest Texas counties registered here Thursday for the annual short course offered through the co-operation of the Home Demonstration Extension Service of Texas and the College.

The first hour of the program was devoted to a reception with state and district extension workers, students and instructors of the home economics department of the college uniting to welcome the visitors.

Dean R. P. Jarrett welcomed the visitors in the absence of Dr. J. A. Hill, and Mrs. O. A. Blankenship of Potter County, responded. Following a musical number by Miss Nancy Dawes of the music department, Miss Ruby Mashburn, Home Demonstration Agent of District 1, introduced Miss Mildred Horton, vice director of Extension Work and State Home Demonstration Agent.

Miss Horton emphasized the new appreciation of rural life which has grown up in the United States recently. She said, "Women realize that the fate of the nation is bound up with agriculture. In the United States more people are engaged in agriculture than in all the next five industries put together." Miss Horton declared that the open country is not only a good trading ground for leaders of the nation, but that it furnishes the population necessary to keep cities growing. "While only 21 percent of the women of child-

Boyce Truck Burned Friday Evening as Gas Line Leaks

E. I. Boyce was bringing a truck load of bundles from the Bauer farm south of town Friday evening when his truck caught on fire as the result of a leak in the gas line. Soon after he succeeded in stoping the machine and getting out, the gas tank exploded and fire spread rapidly over the vehicle and load. He was able to pull only a dozen bundles from the load.

The truck is a total loss owing to the intenseness of the heat.

Guests last week in the Dewey Foster home were Mr. and Mrs. Don B. Wright and children of Memphis. Mrs. Foster and Mrs. Wright are sisters.

Mrs. Katheryn Price, mother of Mrs. Kermit R. Schramm, left last week for California where she will spend the summer with friends.

One Inch Falls In Two Days as Moisture Hits

Wheat Revives Very Rapidly Following Rains Which Come Sunday and Monday

COVERS COUNTY

All Sections Get Rain But Amount Varies In County; From Half to Three Inches Fell

An inch of rain fell in Canyon Sunday and Monday. This is the largest rain received since September.

Every section of the Plains received rain, but the amount varied in different parts. The rainfall in Randall county measured from a half to nearly three inches.

The heaviest rain seemed to have centered northwest of Canyon. A heavy downpour swept from the Umbarger vicinity to Bushland.

In Canyon the rain measured .42 of an inch Sunday night; .18 of an inch Monday afternoon and .40 of an inch Monday night.

Farmers reported yesterday that the wheat had improved in looks very rapidly following the rain. As compared with last year, indications are that there is a chance for a larger yield throughout the county than was harvested last year, provided the rains continue.

No rain fell over the county last year until May 18th. However the west and southwest parts of the county had received earlier moisture and was in much better shape than any particular section is right now.

With general rains continuing to fall this month all parts of the country should produce many acres of good wheat.

Clouds hovered in the skies Tuesday with good chances for more rain. However, the wind turned to the north yesterday and cooler weather lessened the chances for moisture.

President Roosevelt Makes Trip Thru Texas on Tuesday

President Roosevelt ended his fishing trip in the Gulf of Mexico Tuesday and after short stops visited A. & M. College where he reviewed the cadets and made a short talk.

He spent Tuesday night at the home of his son, Elliott, in Fort Worth. Young Roosevelt is a member of the Board of Regents of A. & M.

Public School Band Will Play Concert Saturday Afternoon

The Public School Band will play at the bandstand Saturday afternoon at 4:00 o'clock.

The band played last Saturday and a large number of citizens enjoyed the concert.

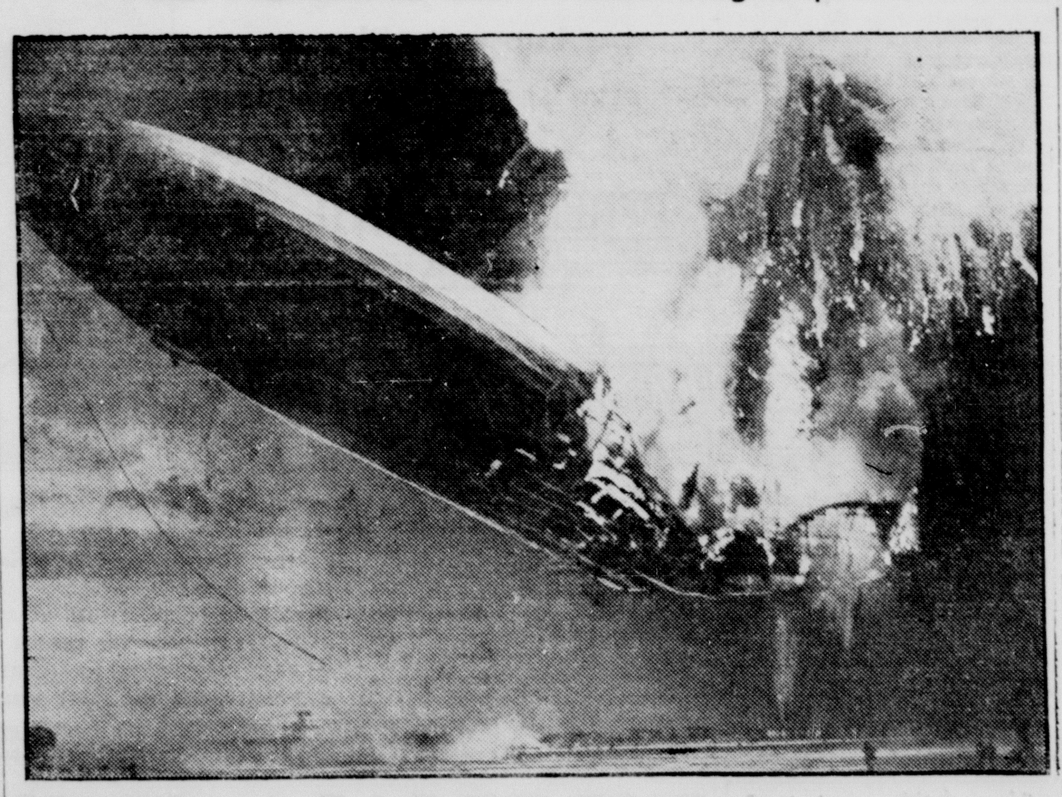
R. G. Stephenson plans to have concerts regularly throughout the remainder of the school year, and throughout the summer if the band work is carried on as last summer.

Scandal Sheet Fails to Create Excitement Thursday

Boys offered for sale Thursday afternoon the scandal sheet which is being circulated over Texas that Governor Allred should be impeached. The sheet was printed in newspaper form, with all of the text being directed against Governor Allred for failure to increase old age pensions.

Few copies were sold here. Officers ignored the sale. Texas Rangers have stopped the sale in a number of towns, but generally local officers have ignored the sale.

Fatal Moment as Giant Hindenburg Exploded



Torn apart by a series of terrific explosions, the giant German Zeppelin Hindenburg became a blazing aerial pyre as this remarkable picture was snapped by a cameraman awaiting the landing of the airship at its Lakehurst, N. J. mooring mast. Plunging to earth, the dirigible crumpled, a twisted mass of white-hot wreckage, bringing death to 35 persons and injury to 50 more. The huge airship, ready to land at the Lakehurst naval air station when it exploded, carried 26 passengers and a crew of 61. Most of the survivors were burned or injured.

PANHANDLE MEMBER PRESS ASSOCIATION

Perhaps only a few citizens of Canyon realized the importance of an article in last week's issue of The News. This article related to the Coronado celebration in 1940-41. The Panhandle-Plains Historical Society has been designated to join with New Mexico and Arizona in this great historical celebration, which will be held in New Mexico. Quite naturally tourists from the east will wish to visit all of the historical spots in connection with Coronado. The Museum will be the central point of interest so far as Texas is concerned. Located on highway 60, and only a few miles from highway 66, thousands of visitors will come this way. They will visit the Museum. They will see the Palo Duro State Park. They will be impressed with the future of the Plains country. When congress passes the bill authorizing the distribution of the Coronado memorial coins, 100,000 of these 50 cent pieces will be distributed in this territory. They will be sent to people all over the United States. In addition to raising funds to complete the Museum building, the coins will serve as an advertising feature for 1940-41. In the meanwhile, much work must be done in Canyon. Information must be collected and prepared for the visitors. Markers must be erected so that the visitors may trace Coronado. And above all, so far as Canyon is concerned, facilities must be provided with a hotel and up-to-date tourist camp to take care of the visitors.

Governor Allred is making some mighty broad hints about a third term. Every second term governor feels that the people are calling for him, and would like to have the job again. Dan Moody had friends write to local political leaders all over the state asking their advice about a third term. He did not run, because the people opposed it. The problem is simple. No second term governor gets along with his legislature. His program goes to smash, and he feels that he simply must stay in office to put it over. The facts are that should he stay in for a third term, he would accomplish less than he did during the second term. Allred's case is somewhat different than past governors. No doubt he wishes to run against Senator Tom Connally, but Connally does not come up for re-election until 1940. This means Allred will be out of office in 1940 and shorn of his political pull since he retires in January 1939. Allred may think that his political path has been strewn with more thorns than roses. Facts are, he has more new problems than any governor of recent years, but that would hardly be an excuse for the voters to abandon the policy of only two terms for Texas governors. Governor Allred is one of the smartest politicians that Texas has ever produced, and might be able to overcome a third term prejudice. Time will tell.

The new neutrality bill which was rushed through Congress last week and on to President Roosevelt has more power vested in the President than any bill ever passed. Perhaps few congressmen realized when they voted for it the vast powers given a peace-time executive. Italy, Germany, and France are now worried about what Roosevelt shall do. Representatives from these nations in Washington have found that the President may stop shipment to these nations. Why? Simply because all three have organized and government approved troops fighting in Spain. None of them longer deny that the Spanish war is their war. Poor old Spain is being shot to pieces because the war lords in these nations are backing the enterprise. Without outside help the rebellion would have been over months ago. President Roosevelt has a tremendous responsibility upon his shoulders under this neutrality bill. Be it said in his favor, the President has never shirked a responsibility, and has never dodged a hard problem which he thought should be undertaken. With all the worries he has upon his shoulders, no wonder he is forced to leave Washington every few months to get away from all these difficulties.

In spite of the unfavorable weather there are many beautiful flowers in Canyon this spring. Which leads to a suggestion for thought? Do you raise flowers? No? Why? Largely because of the trouble and expense. It takes lots and lots of hard work to raise flowers. Furthermore, it is very, very expensive. Flower bulbs, bushes or seed that are worth anything, cost real, genuine money, and plenty of it. Canyon has a high water rate, and flowers take a great deal of water if they grow as they should. All of which leads up to the point of discussion. Flower thieves. Those who go out and take blooms from those who have gone to the expense of raising beautiful flowers place themselves in the class of destroyers of valuable property. Flower beggers. There are others who would go over town stripping flower beds, taking away from those who have labored and spent their money. Most everyone who raises flowers give away cheerfully all that they can spare. But on the other hand most of them do not appreciate seeing their efforts wasted by people who will not go to the trouble and expense of raising their own flowers. Perhaps this may be classed as a little lecture on ethics.

Chairman Robert Lee Bobbitt of the State Highway Commission is a man of many words and few promises. He made a long speech Thursday night to representatives from practically every county in the Panhandle but promised nothing. Having served in the legislature, as Speaker of the House, as Attorney General, and as a judge on the San Antonio Court of Civil Appeal, Mr. Bobbitt has learned well the art of evasiveness. Probably many who heard him were disappointed that he did not get down to brass tacks. They hoped he would tell the Panhandle how the gaps would be closed, and other needed highways constructed. But a fine testimonial given by each county as to the work the Highway Commission was doing means more in ultimate results than any promise of the Commission. On one proposition Judge Bobbitt did not mince words: pouring it on the Jeffersonian Democrats and those opposed to the Roosevelt administration. Those who were on the receiving end of the speaker's satire did not enjoy themselves so very much.

Even The Canyon News makes mistakes. The first page banner last week read: "Water Conservation Law of Texas Is Approved." Shucks, that law referred only to the Panhandle, and the headline should have read "Panhandle" instead of "Texas." A general conservation law for the entire state is now nearing approval in the legislature. But the law in which our people are vitally interested belongs to the Panhandle territory, and was passed because of the interest of our people in water conservation. Yes, and the beauty of the whole thing is that the water conservation idea started right here in Canyon. W. A. Warren and his directors of the Chamber of Commerce worked out, thought out, and started the movement. The ultimate goal of this movement is to bring counties of Texas, New Mexico, Oklahoma, Kansas and Colorado of the dust bowl into a water conservation organization which will solve the drouth problem. The plan is entirely feasible and will no doubt soon become a reality.

The public school band played its first concert down town Saturday afternoon. The youngsters made a fine appearance, and are to be congratulated. Establishment of the band was one of the major improvements that the school board has accomplished during recent years. Every school has its problems, largely financial, but it is to be hoped that the band director may be kept on the job during the summer so that the members may continue their fine work as they did last summer. Building a band cannot be established in a year or two years. The director needs a great deal of time for individual instruction as well as for mass development. The summer months are very productive, and during that itme the youngsters are given a profitable vacation.

Highway Commissioner Harry Hines calls special attention to his plan to build a highway down the Palo Duro Canyon from Canyon to Memphis. This is a big undertaking. It cannot be accomplished in one year, or even two years. But it is an undertaking that will be approved by all citizens of West Texas. No greater scenic highway can be conceived for Texans than this proposed route. The venture is entirely feasible. Perhaps it cannot be undertaken until the gaps in existing highways are completed. Nevertheless, it is an undertaking worthy of consideration. All counties through which the proposed highway passes have heartily approved the undertaking, and will give full 100% aid and assistance.

Sometime men get to feeling that they rather control the destinies of this nation and have all of the responsibilities. You fellows ponder these facts: 80% of federal inheritence taxes are paid by women; 40% of all real estate titles are in women's names; 44% of the public utilities are owned by women; 48% of the railroad stocks are owned by women; 65% of the savings accounts in the banks of the nation belong to women — $14,242,800,000; approximately three-fourths of the wealth of the nation is in the name of women; one-fourth of the jobs are held by women.

A few months ago all classes of government bonds were quoted at a high premium. When 3% bonds bring a premium of $5.00 to $12.00 there is something wrong. Investors are scared, and put their trust in these low grade securities. The price of government bonds has dropped during recent weeks. Commercial enterprises are taking the money which formerly was invested in these low interest bearing securities. That is a good indication of prosperity.

An ex-student of W. T. passed through Canyon Thursday. He had not seen the campus for two years. Imagine his amazement in viewing for the first time all of the rock which had been piled up during the past few months, building Buffalo Courts, the Recreation Hall, the Swimming Pool, the Tennis Courts, the walls around Buffalo Stadium, and the bleachers on the athletic field. Those who have lived thru this construction period cannot comprehend how impressive this sight is to the student who has not been here since the work started.

Congratulations are due the Hereford Brand on a 38-page pioneer edition published last week. Mrs. Seth B. Holman and her able staff put over a real newspaper production. And while newspaper bouquets are in order, a fancy package goes to Misses Jeane Suits and Margaret Hage of the Lockney Beacon for a 36-page irrigation edition on April 30.

A lot of people in this nation profess to be sick and tired of reading about Wally and David. Newspaper reporters state that more attention was given the pair by London newspapers last week than was devoted to the coming coronation.

Johnston Goes To Oklahoma College To Take Exam

Professor and Mrs. C. S. Johnston left for Oklahoma University Friday where Mr. Johnston will take the first of a series of examinations toward his Ph. D. degree this summer. Mr. Johnston has accomplished much this year in the field of paleontology in correlating geologic data and collecting museum exhibits. Among his most outstanding finds is Equus Scotti, the remains of a horse found in the lower Pleistocene beds on the Noble Ranch.

Mr. Johnston has also written a book entitled "The Romance of Life," which will be sent in for publication soon. In the book, he treats the origin and nature of the earth and the evolution of man, bringing the complete data of man into one book and making of the evolution of man a romance. Both Professor and Mrs. Johnston have done outstanding work in this field.

NUTRITIONAL VALUE OF VEGETABLES STUDIED

Miss Allie Dozier discussed the Nutritional value of vegetables at the meeting of the Zita H. D. Club held in the home of Mrs. J. P. Upchurch, May 11th.

It was brought out that vegetables with deep coloring have more food value than those pale in coloring matter. Vegetables get their required minerals for growth from the soil, and people in turn get the nutritional value of the vegetables.

In canning vegetables, they should be pre-cooked so as to prevent tin poisoning. The pre-cooking requires five minutes simmering instead of boiling, because food value and color is lost in the boiling.

After the business meeting a social hour was enjoyed.

A salad plate was served to the following members: Mrs. D. C. McCormick, Mrs. E. A. Michael, Mrs. Lawrence Fulton, Mrs. Rufus Ziegler, Mrs. Morris Hill, Mrs. Eula Watson, Mrs. John Moody, Mrs. Bailie McCormick, Mrs. Emma Gruner, Mrs. J. P. Upchurch, Miss Dozier, and Miss Juanita Parker, guest.

Convinced that newspaper space represents the most advantageous medium for merchandising its products as evidenced by substantial increases in sales of Conoco germ-processed motor oil following past newspaper advertising campaigns, Continental Oil Company is again launching a large-scale advertising campaign in some 1400 carefully selected papers in all sections of the nation. The campaign will continue into September and will be distinguished by the fact that it will feature the local dealer as well as the company's oil.

Surveys conducted by Continental's advertising department showed two factors which decided the nature of the forthcoming campaign. First, it was ascertained that the best sales results followed the use of newspaper advertising; and second, that the average motorist is far more concerned with the mileage he obtains from his oil than any other single factor.

Correlating this information with the fact that Continental distribution is now conducted entirely through local independent dealers, the advertising campaign will stress that each dealer is a "mileage merchant" who, in order to retain his customers and gain new ones, must sell mileage in the form of a motor oil which will give efficient service.

VOL. NO. 11. CANYON, TEXAS, MAY 13, 1937. NUMBER 33

Howdy, kids,

I shore was glad to see all you kids come in from Austin tother day. I shore bet you had a grand time. Did any of you kinds get to stay at the governor's mansion while you wuz there? Too bad that Ruby or Robbie Foster wasn't along to get you in to see them. I wuz talking to some of them civic students and they sure did enjoy visiting the Senate and Legislative, well whatever it is. And by the by "Curly" Higdon will have to be a dawgone good reporter to write all the convention up, so I heard. Shore do wish I could have gone with you.

Say, Mr. Pope, what were those dark circles doing under your eyes Monday morning? They look like that you had had a bad week-end. Well, I guess we will excuse you this time since you were out with the Press Club. Jack, how to you and J. C. like salt in your bed?

Bot, the Press Club sure did enjoy seeing you jump Saturday. Everybody knows that you could have won that as easy as jumping off a log backward. Everyone was backing you a hundred percent.

I wuz in town the other day and heard the drum corps a-playing or beating, whatever they were doing, and they were really going to town. I shore hope they get to buy a lot more drums and everyone in the Pep Squad can be in the drum corps.

And by the by, I hear the Press Club is going to get a new typewriter with the money they had left over from their trip to Austin and from the faculty play. That typewriter sure will save a lot of steps for the typists and they won't have to go up so many steps when they go to type.

Well, kids, next week I'm really gonna write you a long letter ere column, cuz that will be the last time I will get to see or hear from any of you until next fall unless you all pack your duds and come and see Miriah and me. If you come, try to make the early part of this summer cuz me and her is going to take a little trip to Arkansas and see all of our folks.

So long,

Cactus Cal.

WHY STUDY HALL?

"Rattle-rattle" goes a lot of papers. The bell rings, but still this noise keeps up. This is usually the way that the study hall sounds. Can't you students hear the bell? When the 5-minute bell rings, that means that all foolishness is to stop and that you are to get down to work. Even if you do not want to study, you do not have to disturb other people. When we are in study hall, please try to remember this because it disturbs not only pupils in study hall who want to work but also pupils in the classes below us.

ARE YOU A BORROWER?

"May I borrow some paper?" This is a question commonly heard every day. It is not only paper that is borrowed, but fountain pens, pencils, ink, etc.; then the lender rarely sees what he lends again.

Borrowing is not only monotonous, but it is expensive to the one borrowed from, and an aggravation. Everyone is low on funds now, so why should one person keep up two or three?

If everyone would have his own materials, more people would be satisfied and it would be less expensive to everyone in the long run.

WARNING! SPRING FEVER

Do you have spring fever? If you do, do you let it hinder you with your studies? So many people get the spring fever and when they do, their grades go down. They are always too sleepy or too lazy to study. When this time of year comes around, don't let it get you down. Your studies are always important, especially here at the end of the year. When you feel that you had rather sleep than study, think how much better an "A" would look at the end of the year than a "D" on your report card. Then get busy and prepare your lessons for the next day.

Rev. Quattlebaum Will Deliver Baccalaureate Sermon May 16

The Reverend J. O. Quattlebaum, pastor of the Methodist Church, will preach the 1936-37 baccaluareate sermon, which will be held Sunday evening, May 16, at 8 o'clock in the Methodist Church.

There are forty-three seniors in the graduating class. The Commencement will be in the high school auditorium Friday evening, May 21. Juniors will serve as ushers at the exercises. Mrs. Lee Foster has charge of the music for both exercises.

The public is cordially invited to both of these programs.

"The Little Maiden" Is Favorite

"The Little Maiden" by Renoin, was by vote the most popular picture in the art exhibit at the grade school last week and was selected as one of the pictures to become permanent property of the school. Other pictures selected to remain in the school were "Panic," by Signac; "Landscape With Old Houses," by Cyanne; "The Bridge," by Van Hagh; "The Santa Fe Trail," by Younghunt; "The Corn Ceremony," by Couse; "St Mark's Venice," by Renoir; and "Shepherd's Happiness," by Schnbantz.

According to its sponsors, the exhibit of old and modern masters was successful from both a financial and an educational standpoint.

The pictures were bought with the money received from the six hundred tickets sold.

P. T. A. Ends Year Successfully

With the installation of new local Parent-Teachers Association officers at its last meeting the concluded a most successful year, according to its president, Mrs. Dan Sanders. The new officers are, president, Mrs. Clyde W. Warwick; first vice president, Mrs. John B. Pope; secretary, Mrs. W. T. Davis; and treasurer, Mrs. Dewey Foster.

Programs for the past year have centered around the theme of "Character Building." Topics of each program, with the main speaker, have been as follows: "Friendliness," Miss Hellen Hickman; "Efficiency," Miss Edna Graham; Christmas story, Miss Oscie Sanders; "Forcefulness," Mrs. S. H. Condron; "Co-operation," Dr. A. M. Meyer; "Appreciation," Mrs. J. A. Hill; "Good Taste," a skit by girls from the home economics department of the high school.

The association enrolled 108 members this year, which included fifty percent of the parents and one hundred percent of the faculty. A year book was compiled and sent to State and district officers. Six subscriptions were secured to the National Parent-Teachers Magazine, some of the material in this magazine being used in the Child Study Club. The local organization, which has been strictly non-commercial, non-sectarian, and non-partisan in politics, has attained a superior state rating this year.

The organization has distributed its funds for the year on the budget plan, with the following as outstanding items: prize for the room getting highest membership, and prize each month to the room having highest percentage of parents present; portion of expenses for tea for the Federated Clubs meeting; four social meetings; and the major project of books for the public school library. The local chapter also contributed to the P. T. A. Endowment fund.

The Mother Singers, sponsored by the P. T. A. and directed by Mrs. Harry Brown, have sung in several local programs and on the radio program given by the local P. T. A. over Station KGNC. The retiring president, Mrs. Sanders, and the incoming president, Mrs. Warwick, as well as Mrs. Dewey Foster and Mr. and Mrs. I. B. Carruth, attended the district meeting April 1, 2, and 3, in Perryton. Reports of the meeting were heard at the last regular meeting of the P. T. A.

F. F. A. MEMBERS SEEK CERTIFICATES

Seventeen members of the F. F. A. Club have sent in applications for certificates of merit. They were sent to the area supervisor of agriculture at Lubbock for certification. Others will be sent in next week.

The certificates were applied for in rope-making, farm shop-work, woodwork, chicken raising, and placing in various judging contests. "Granting the fact that the requirements for obtaining a certificate of merit are very stiff, I think that most of our applications will be accepted," was the statement made by Mr. Milton Morris, F. F. A. sponsor.

A Joke Every Mile To Austin

"Heyeee—"

"Aw, pipe down, will you?"

"What time is it?"

"Where are we?"

So ran the conversation on the bus among members of the Press Club en route to Austin last week.

Dorothy Warwick couldn't get enough sleep. She sat up and all of a sudden her head dropped on her chest with a jerk and then it weaved back and forth in the breeze letting her hair wave about her head, too. The bus hit a bump. "Pop" went a joint in her neck; and then up jerked her head, only to repeat the same performance in a few minutes.

John Pope very obligingly took the top off a salt shaker and gave it to Marie O'Donald. Melvin Calliham was, unfortunately sitting in front of her. Half the salt was in Cally's hair before he realized what was up.

Calliham possessed the only camera in use on the trip. Somehow, he got the very smart idea of being a candid cameraman for the uration of the trip. If any pictures turn up at the high school showing the members of the Press Club in awkward, uncomplimentary poses, you know whom to blame for it; but don't tell him who wrote this article.

Carolyn Mayfield and Billy Greenfield were rather quiet for them on the return trip. Too much dancing and not enough sleep, I presume. Too bad. "Grandma" Greenfield must be getting old. As for Carolyn, I can't understand that at all.

Grade Notes

Crawford Ruthart of 4-B has been absent for two weeks on account of illness.

J. A. Tate, also in 4-B has been absent on account of illness.

The students of 4-B recently took a trip over town studying the various types of shelter. They visited the T-Anchor Ranch, the new post office building, and many other places of interest.

"When It Rains, It Pours"

John B. Pope

Salt. The Press Club members thought that the only use of salt was to put on food to eat, but at Austin they found out otherwise. To prove my point which is that there are other uses of salt, I will give you three stories taken from the Press Club's trip to Austin.

The first night after the arrival of the group in Austin, everyone went to town and saw a movie. Upon their return to the cabins, the boys sat around and talked for a while and soon found it time they were getting to bed, for after their 15-hour trip they were tired. J. C. Bellah and Jack Inman were staying in the same cabin and were slowly preparing for bed. At last, after exerting the last supply of energy, they dropped with a bang into bed to get a peaceful night's sleep, but came out with a "&&$-&&()$" and four darns and a gosh. In this case the use of salt was a great disturbance to the night's sleep. Some dirty so-and-so had filled their bed with salt, which, if you will pardon my saying so, is not a good bedmate.

The next evening four of the boys dropped into some deserted table in a cafe for a bit of refreshment. At last the Coca Colas reached the table and all uttered joy for the oncoming drink. Sherman, a black sheep of the bunch used salt in his drink, turned the salt shaker up to pour the salt into his glass, and he succeeded in getting it in there, for when the Coca Cola came out with a hiss, a fizz, and a huge over-production running all over the table. he discovered that somebody had loosened the top on the shaker, causing the salt to fall in abundance over, through, and around the Coca Cola, and arousing the temper of the drink so that it succeeded in fuming above the glass and covering the table. Tsk, tsk.

Now on the way home, Melvin Calliham was sleeping with a peaceful little snore which was arousing the interest of the hogs for miles around, and also was attracting the attention of the cows and scaring the chickens, when he felt an awakening stream of salt flowing down his back and all over his head. He jumped and turned, shaking the salt from him. He scratched his head like a moron, stomped like an elephant, swore like a sailor, and looked like an ape. He came to find out that Marie O'Donald had intended to play a harmless trick and pour a limited amount of salt on his head, but some lop-eared, good-for-nothing, sawed-off lame brained rascal had loosened the top of the shaker, and when it came off it was like taking the governor off of a car and letting Billy Sternenberg drive it. The way "Cally" scratched his head you would have thought he had fleas; or maybe he does and the fleas were resenting the salt being poured upon them. At any case, it seems that salt was the Public Enemy No. 1 for the Press Club group.

Thompson Elected President of '38 Seniors; Brown Is Sponsor

Sarah Thompson, president of this year's junior class, will continue in the same capacity for the senior class next years. Four other of the present junior class officers were also re-elected in a class meeting last week.

Mr. Gerald Brown, sponsor, was chosen as senior sponsor for next year; and Mrs. Burt Newlin, who has served as the room-mother for the class every years except when they were freshmen, was unanimously elected to continue her work.

Clarence Zachry was re-elected as vice president of the class for the coming year. Succeeding Natalie Flesher as secretary-treasurer is Marie O'Donald.

Journalists Attend I. L. P. C.

By Sherman R. Higdon

Eighteen happy journalists, with Mr. John B. Pope, Miss Pauline Crittenden, and Mrs. T. V. Slack as sponsor, took off at 5 o'clock last Thursday morning for the Interscholastic League Press Conference in Texas University at Austin, with Jim Upfold behind the wheel.

With promise of good times ahead, most of the newspapermen and women went to sleep soon, only to be awakened by some more energetic members of the crew. Excitement and entertainment were provided in many different ways on the trip down, but most of it came after dinner, which was eaten in Abilene.

Some played cards, others read magazines, some still slept, and a few just talked and talked. About an hour of excitement was caused when Melvin Calliham suddenly realized there was only about half a deck of cards left that he and John B. Pope were playing with. Immediately a search, a questioning, and a general air of murder-mystery prevailed as the boys searched everyone in the bus for the missing cards. While John B. was searching J. C. Bellah for the cards, his wallet disappeared, and when he missed it, he took up a more serious search. So every thing was becoming provoking, but it soon worked out. The cards were found under John B.'s seat, where he had hidden them; and his wallet was traced through half a dozen people's hands until nobody knew who had it.

Supper was eaten at Fredericksburg, from which the last lap started. Some of the juniors eligible for the trip were almost frightened to death when the bus ran into some rain, because it was the first they had ever seen. The group were very relieved when they saw the lights of Austin appear about 8 o'clock.

Lodging for the crew had been reserved at Travis Courts, a tourist camp one half mile from the city limits of Austin; so it was here every one piled out and scattered to the cabins to clean up for the trip back to town. All of the boys, six of them, stayed in one cabin; but the girls had to separate more widely. Most of the Canyonites spent their time Thursday night at picture shows or seeing the city, as the delegation arrived too late to attend the informal reception that was held that night.

Friday Morning

Preceding the first regular meeting Friday morning, a group picture of all delegates was taken in front of the new library building. Mr. DeWitt Reddick, director-general of the conference, had charge of the first meeting, "Why We Are Here," at which time Joanne Storm, president, Mary Collins, vice president, and Lois Brown, secretary, were introduced. Mr. Paul J. Thompson, chairman of the department of journalism, and Harry Quinn, president of Sigma Delta Chi, honorary journalism fraternity for men, welcomed the delegates.

In discussing "Sustaining Student Interest in the School Paper," each delegation was called on to give a report of some method which it had used to keep up interest in its paper.

One of the main features of the meet was the speech by Monte Barrett of San Antonio, who writes the continuity for the adventure strip, "Jane Arden." This strip ranks second in popularity in the United States, and is published in papers all over the nation as well as in several foreign papers. Mr. Barrett discussed ways by which school papers could use continuity features.

Friday Afternoon

Friday afternoon the topic of discussion was "Interviewing: Good and Bad." Several dramatic skits were presented illustrating the topic, and Mrs. Bess Whitehead Scott of Houston talked on her experiences as an interviewer for a Houston paper.

Each paper was taken separately and criticized during the next session, so that each could be improved.

Journalism Jamboree

The Journalism Jamboree was held Friday night in the Crystal Ballroom of the Driskill Hotel and almost every local delegate attended. This evening of "Fun, Food, Frolic, Music, Entertainment, and Dancing," was introduced by a banquet, which was followed by an excellent floor show made up of dancing and singing artists. Following this there was a dance and another floor show.

Saturday Morning

Saturday morning sessions included "Livening the Paper with Literary Features" and "Shop Talks." The latter was a series of ten-minute talks by sponsors and students. The business meeting was also held when the new officers for the association were elected. The president for next year's meeting is Mendez Marks of San Antonio; vice president is Nancy Nell Cox of Abilene; and secretary, Marguerite Johnson of Navasota.

At various times during Friday and Saturday morning, contests were held on news writing, headlining, copy-reading, feature writing, and on papers in general; but the Eagle's Tale was ineligible to enter these as it is part of the local paper. It was voted, however, to have a special division next year for sheets printed in the local newspaper. This was considered about the most important event of the trip by our delegation.

Saturday Afternoon

Saturday afternoon was open for anything anybody wanted to do; so everyone managed to enjoy himself. Barton Springs attracted some to cool off in its clear waters, but others accepted simply tramping around the hot streets and always looking. Saturday night, most of the staff attended the Union Dance on the spacious dance floor in the Union Building.

Return Trip

The departure was made about 1 o'clock Sunday morning, and soon all was silence, for practically everyone was asleep. This lasted until we reached Brady, where some ate breakfast. The next stop was made at Abilene, where the rest ate breakfast. There was little going on all day Sunday, because everyone was so sleepy, he had no energy left to do much more than change his reclining position. On the back trip, dinner was eaten in Post, and soon afterwards, we were back on the caprock where the wind blows. To most present, it was welcome after experiencing the sultry weather in the far south. Another stop was made in Tulia for just a snack; and before we knew it, the trip was over.

This Summer People Are Going Places

"Gee! It's hot!"

"I want to go somewhere where it's cool!"

"Where are you going this summer?"

"I'll be hanged if I know!"

This question seems to be the most important of these that we see. Some of the high school students have expressed their wishes to go places this summer (or vice-versa).

Coach (from the looks of things) is going to market this summer with a blue ribbon on him. Now, he hasn't said anything, but Melvin Calliham seems to have.

Miss Jordan seems to be good at calling cows, and there is a chance that she will go into the business this summer. The same goes for Mr. Sanders (except his specialty is hog-calling!)

Edrie McNeill doesn't seem to know where she is going this summer, but some of the places she wants to go are California, Wichita Falls, and Dallas.

Hazel Sanders seems to like California air, as she is going out there this summer, too. Kate Donnell says she will probably sit at home and twiddle her thumbs; while "Speedy" Wilkinson will probably fiddle with his motorcycle. Martha Jo Newlin and Marie O'Donald are quite uncertain about what they are going to do this summer.

Anne Maxwell is another who is headed for California, with Fort Worth also on her schedule.

Of course, all the other two hundred-odd pupils also have vacation plans; but we just could not write about all of them. So we just wish them all a happy vacation.

Miss Ruth Greenfield spent the week-end in Post, visiting her brothers, Verna and Ira Greenfield; the latter is a graduate of C. H. S.

Stewart, President, Donald, Horn Pep Leaders

Margaret Stewart was elected president of the Pep Squad and Marie O'Donald and Mary Bourn were selected for pep leaders at the pep squad meeting Monday at 4 o'clock.

Lillian Chambers was elected by acclamation as vice president of the group; and mascots were Jeanie Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Warren Johnson, and "Sonny" McNeill, son of Mrs. Allie McNeill. Sarah Thompson was named secretary by acclamation.

It was decided that the pep suits would cast $3.50 for the new members. Edrie McNeill will be drum major for the second year, and Miss Annie Ruth Eastus will continue her service as sponsor.

Retiring officers, all seniors, are Kate Donnell, president; Carolyn Mayfield, pep leader; and Billy Greenfield, vice president.

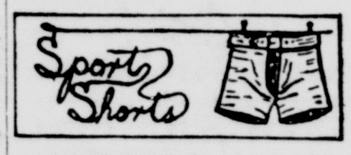
H. E. Club Head Is Stewart

Margaret Stewart was unanimously elected to lead the Junior Homemakers Club next year at the club's last meeting for this year, Tuesday evening of last week.

Other officers are vice president, Hazel Sanders; secretary-treasurer, Mary Zachry; reporter, Anne Maxwell; song leader, Dannie Stewart; pianist, Sue Terry; and editor-in-chief of the year book, Edrie McNeill.

The officers of this year entertained the club with a buffet supper. The menu, consisting of macaroni and cheese, potato salad, bread and butter sandwiches, ice cream and cake, and iced tea was prepared by Mildred Shuman, president; Margaret Stewart, vice president; Sarah Thompson, secretary-treasurer; Beulah Brasuel, reporter; Edrie McNeill, song leader; and Marielle Oldham, historian. The dining room was decorated with bouquets of balliardia and with candles, and each end of the table in the clothing room had a centerpiece of wild phlox.

The president told the club about the trip the representatives took to Fort Worth. The group decided to discontinue the club until August instead of meeting all summer as it had done previously. Lavender and white were selected for club colors and the cactus as its flower. It was decided that regular members of the club could get bronze pins, officers silver ones, and that gold pins would be awarded members who do special work, such as winning at the State Rally.



Hello, Folks!

Well it was just too bad for words to see "Bot" go all the way down to Austin and be there too late to sign up to enter the high-jump contest. The jump was won by a record of six feet, two inches. "Bot" could have beaten that record, we believe.

The winning schools which carried off most of the track meet honors were Austin, San Antonio, and Woodrow Wilson High School, Dallas.

Did you see the next year's Eagles and the Seniors play? Those Seniors really did "poop out" fast. They called time out about every five minutes. Wot a game! Wot a game! This was the last great scrimmage of the season for the Eagles.

We hope you boys have good luck in your next year's season. Good luck to you, Coaches Hutto and Brown; may your teams become bigger and better in the future.

Recreational Facilities To Be Offered In Coaching School

Excursion To Carlsbad Cavern Planned For Students

Recreational facilities galore will be offered to the students in West Texas State's second coaching school to be held in Canyon, June 6-12.

Included in this list of facilities will be concrete tennis courts, one handball court, Palo Duro Canyons, two college swimming pools, golf course, ping-pong tables, softball grounds and horsehoe links. Coach Baggett has also announced the probability of a trip to Carlsbad Cavern immediately following the regular school for those interested in the excursion.

With a widely-recognized coaching staff, Director Al Baggett expects to reach unparalleled heights in the way of southwestern coaching schools. Last year, the instructors were picked mainly from the southwest. This year, the administration scoured the extreme East to enlist modern football's outstanding figures.

The first engaged from this eastern region was Frank Leahy, line coach at Fordham University. As Fordham employs the Notre Dame system, he will naturally expatiate on that phase of the game. Last season the New York Rams were hailed by many as logical choices for the Rose Bowl pageant.

It was the figure of Jock Sutherland at Pittsburgh University that threw his Panthers into high gear to knock all other Rose Bowl contenders from the ladder. Coach Baggett made haste in contracting Sutherland to lead discussion on the "Warner System" at the school. The Pittsburgh mentor accepted by telegram, reporting, "Your staff stacks up as one of the best in the country."

Others already on the card were Blair Cherry of Texas University, Madison Bell of Southern Methodist University, Jimmy St. Clair of Southern Methodist, Dr. Harry A. Scott of Rice Institute, and Chuck Taylor, the "Ambassador of Basketball."

Madrigal Club To Present Spring Concert May 19

The annual spring concert of the West Texas State College Madrigal Club will be presented Wednesday evening, May 19, at 8:15 o'clock in the auditorium of the Education building, according to a recent announcement of Wallace R. Clark, conductor of the organization.

Membership of the club is composed of thirty-two mixed voices, singing old madrigals and modern part-songs unaccompanied. The personnel of the club is restricted, and members of the organization are selected at the beginning of each year solely by its conductor.

It is the custom of the club to present only one program during each school year, however, the Madrigal Club presented a Christmas vespers service this year. The Madrigal Club serves as the choir for the College baccalaureate services each year.

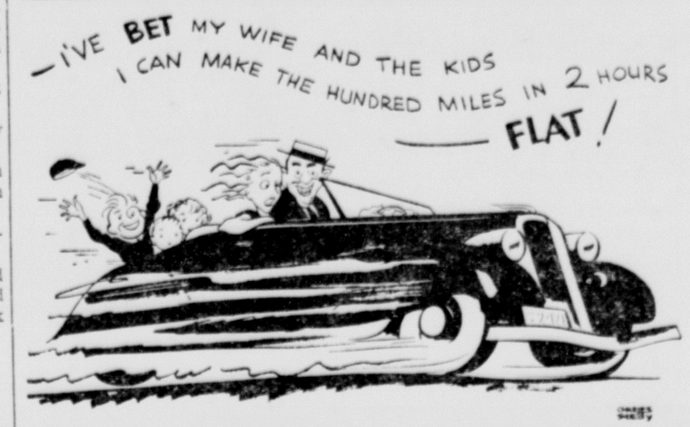
Everything to Lose



An automobile accident is invariably the result of a mistake by someone. Quite often the pedestrian is at fault; once in a great while the finger of guilt points to the engineer who designed the highway or the man who designed the car. But in three accidents out of every five the blunder is made by the man behind the wheel.

What are these driver-mistakes that result so frequently in death and injury?

An analysis of the 1936 accident reports by statisticians of The Travelers Insurance Company shows that exceeding the speed limit is the chief cause of death. Driving on the wrong side of the road is the next most common error and driving off the roadway is a close third. Failing to grant the right of way and reckless driving follow in that order.

Other common mistakes include "cutting in," passing on curves and hills, failing to signal, and passing standing street cars.

More Mileage to you—
BREAD & BUTTER TO ME

My station is all on its own. My living's got to come mostly from just you people right here. I want your steady trade, so's to build a real growing business. And there's where it helps me a lot, I can tell you, to be selling Conoco Germ Processed oil. You see it makes customers and keeps them for me. It's patented—the only oil that can Oil-Plate your engine. Meaning that a definite part of this oil always fastens direct to every working part . . . forms a real Plating of oil, which can't run down. Other oils will "dry off" every time you park, but Oil-Plating can't, so you'll never make any hard, grinding starts. And that ends the worst wear of all. Or when you're hitting it up all day, you won't find this real Oil-Plating rubbing right off, like just some plain little drops of oil. Oil-Plating's not thinning out either, nor burning right up. Which gives you mighty solid reasons why Oil-Plating means more mileage from your engine and your Conoco Germ Processed oil. Besides making customers, I get a kick out of changing you to an oil I can believe in myself, right to the limit.

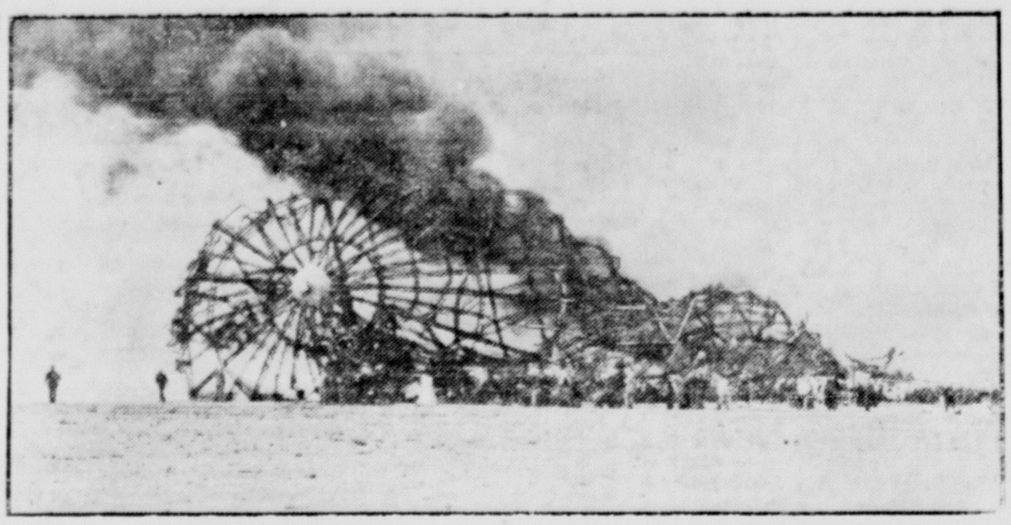
As Once Proud Zeppelin Took Death Plunge



One moment, the supreme master of the skies, the next, a white hot mass of twisted wreckage, the hulk of the giant dirigible Hindenburg is shown here a few seconds after it crashed to earth while landing at the Lakehurst, N. J. naval air base. Experts, after preliminary investigation, said they believed the huge airship exploded when a spark of electricity set off the hydrogen gas in the ship. What generated that spark may never be known. The proud flagship of the German dirigible service was making her first voyage of the season across the Atlantic. Her mooring ropes had already been lowered when suddenly a terrific series of explosions tore her apart and she crashed to earth in flames.

The Randall County Sing Song will meet at the Tierra Blanca school house on the third Sunday in June instead of May, according to J. B. Knox, president. Spring Racing Will Start Next Wednesday Tri-State Fair

Better horses, a better track, and a lower admittance price to the grandstands will feature what may be the last legal horse race in Amarillo.

The Tri-State Fair's Spring Meeting will be held there May 19. through the 29th, Sunday excluded.

The possibility that the state of Texas will outlaw horse racing this summer is being met with pro and con arguments, but the Tri-State Fair Association is taking no part in the controversy.

"We are spending our time improving our track, planning bigger and better meetings, and working constantly toward refinement to do our best to put this great sport on a clean, honest basis," said Mason King, racing director.

Famed throughout the country as one of the leading tracks in the matter of fair play for all concerned, the Tri- State's Spring Meeting this year will boast its greatest entry list of thoroughbreds.

Thoroughbreds which have been consistently good performers at Arlington Downs and other major tracks will run at Amarillo. Reason for this shipping of fine stables to the Tri-State is because horse owners find the meeting a perfect fill-in between major meetings.

Several horses are now quartered in the Tri-State's stables. Most of them came here directly from Arlington Downs. The only major races to which these horses might be shipped are at Kansas City and Aurora, Illinois, and both of these meetings come after the Amarillo dates.

The track is in perfect condition. Trainers are sending their horses through daily workouts.

Admittance price for grandstand seats will be 40 cents for this meeting, Tri-State officials decided last week. Previously, the price had been advertised as 50 cents.

Conservation Law

named several months ago in the Panhandle will serve for the coming year.

Mr. Warren expressed great pleasure in the way the organization had developed since it was started by the Canyon Chamber of Commerce last fall. He is very optimistic over the prospects of securing federal aid to carry on the program of dams and lakes.

A few weeks ago representatives of the organization secured an interview with President Roosevelt through the efforts of Congressman Marvin Jones. The President expressed great interest in the "dust bowl" and showed the Panhandle delegation his plans for the future, which co-incides with the plans which were developed for this territory by local citizens.

Carl Hinton, secretary-manager of the Amarillo Chamber of Commerce, was retained as manager of the conservation group. His salary was set at $1.00 per year. John McCarty of Amarillo is president of the organization.

Entries are urged to be at the tee off at 1:30 Sunday. All club membsrs and green fee patrons are eligible.

This is the first tournament of the season for the local club, and it is expected to create much interest and excitement, as it is something new in the way of tournaments.

Women Meet Here

bearing age in the United States live in the country, they produce 29 percent of the children born each year," said Miss Horton. From this point she showed how important it is that rural homes come up to a high standard of productivity, comfort and culture.

Following luncheon, the women scattered in small groups to visit all parts of the college grounds and the Panhandle-Plains Historical Society Museum where special guides were provided for them.

Miss Lida Cooper, Home Demonstration Agent of District 2, presided at the afternoon meeting which opened with a short concert by the orchestra of the college, under the direction of Mr. Wallace R. Clark. Mrs. Ulman Hunter, Castro county, led singing in a brief recreational period. Mrs. J. L. Morris of Dawson county introduced all the Home Demonstration council presidents and they in turn introduced the delegations from their counties. Swisher county had the largest representation.
